President's Pondering

Dear Members,

As the days grow colder and the colours of autumn return, I'm delighted to welcome everyone, both new and returning members to another season with the Richmond Carvers Society.

To our new members, welcome! We're glad to have you join our community. And to our returning members, thank you for continuing to share your talent, enthusiasm, and friendship.

We will be having a short special meeting on Wednesday 5th of November to discuss increasing the yearly membership fees prior to the membership renewal notices for 2026, so it would be really good for as many as possible to attend to voice your opinion and vote on this matter.

A special thank you to both Neil for his efforts in getting me to write this letter in a timely manner and his patience when I don't and to Dan for his patience and guidance with the new members and the extra effort he regularly goes to in creating blanks for those projects.

Warm regards,

Nathan

It Was very sad new to hear that in August the carving community lost a great carver and member of the Fraser Valley carvers.

Time out for a Laugh

A man walks into a restaurant...

A man walks into a restaurant with a full-grown ostrich behind him.

As he sits, the waitress comes over and asks for their orders.

The man says, "I'll have a hamburger, fries and a coke," and turns to the ostrich, "What's yours?"

"I'll have the same," says the ostrich.

A short time later the waitress returns with the order. "That will be $6.40 please," and the man reaches into his pocket and pulls out the exact change for payment.

The next day, the man and the ostrich come again and the man says, "I'll have a hamburger, fries and a coke," and the ostrich says, "I'll have the same."

Once again the man reaches into his pocket and pays with exact change.

This becomes a routine until late one evening, the two enter again.

"The usual?" asks the waitress. "No, this is Friday night, so I will have a steak, baked potato and salad," says the man, "same for me," says the ostrich.

A short time later the waitress comes with the order and says, "That will be $12.62." Once again the man pulls exact change out of his pocket and places it on the table.

The waitress can't hold back her curiosity any longer.

"Excuse me, sir. How do you manage to always come up with the exact change out of your pocket every time?"

"Well," says the man, "several years ago I was cleaning the attic and I found an old lamp. When I rubbed it a Genie appeared and offered me two wishes. My first wish was that if I ever had to pay for anything, I would just put my hand in my pocket and the right amount of money would always be there."

"That's brilliant!" says the waitress. "Most people would wish for a million dollars or something, but you'll always be as rich as you want for as long as you live!"

"That's right. Whether it's a gallon of milk or a Rolls Royce, the exact money is always there," says the man.

The waitress asks, "One other thing, sir, what's with the ostrich?"

The man sighs, pauses, and answers, "My second wish was for a tall chick with long legs who agrees with everything I say."
